How can you help?

We ask our Subscribers to help the work of the Dean Heritage Centre in whatever way they can.

Volunteering at the Centre is encouraged. However this is not always possible for everyone, so when that is the case we ask that instead they support in other ways.

Examples:

Respond to special appeals, and support Fund raising initiatives.

Donate extra funds or Prizes.

Distribute posters and fliers.

Bring full paying friends and family to visit & to Events & Exhibitions

Join the Friends Committee.

Spread the word about the Centre, and about the work of The Friends

HOW TO JOIN

The Friends of the Dean Heritage Museum Trust

The Friends

are a supporters organisation committed to promoting and assisting the work of the Dean Heritage Centre that was founded by, and relies heavily, on community help.

As a Friend you have the opportunity to make a significant contribution to the Centre's continued future and success.

Our Purpose

The 'Friends' organisation was founded to support, promote and assist the Dean Heritage Centre and its unique Collection. Subscribers are enabled to become involved in its present and future in a variety of ways.

What do Friends do?

Raise funds for a wide variety of projects and items needed. Some undertake a regular few hours at the Centre and others help in other ways occasionally such as offering particular skills, gardening or at Events.

What if I can't help in person?

We will talk to you about what you can do to help. There are a number of things you may be able to assist with—for instance, donating extra funds, using computer skills to help remotely, spreading the word about the work of the Centre and The Friends via social media, distribution of posters and leaflets, or you may have other ideas.

How do I become a Friend?

Simply complete both sides of the attached form., and return it to us with the appropriate subscription, in the way indicated.

What are the benefits to joining?

The knowledge that you are helping to secure the future of a unique collection of historical documents and artefacts of the Forest of Dean and District, which is always an interesting place to visit with new Exhibitions & projects.

The chance to be involved in the running of the Dean Heritage Centre by volunteering at Camp Mill and/or on the Friends committee. The Centre welcomes offers of help, and The Friends cannot exist without its committee, which is always looking for new recruits Making new friends while having the chance to assist with events or appeals or while utilising your skills in some other way; such as on computers, or gardening ( see below).

Subsidised entry to the Centre and quarterly Newsletters , which you can contribute towards.
